THINKS IT IS INTERESTING READING.

The following is from the Washington correspondence of the Greensboro Industrial News:

"Mr. Gudger said today that if the occasion demands he will use his seat in the house and reply to any attack that may be made upon Judge Pritchard."

This is interesting reading. It is gratifying to note the enthusiasm with which the democratic congressman rushes to the defense of his political opponent. The worst "attacks" that have ever been made upon Pritchard were made by Mr. Gudger's own party. But "the world do move." Is it too much to expect that the time will soon come when Mr. Gudger will be equally anxious to rush to the defense of E. S. Blackburn or H. S. Anderson? "We are living in a strange and wondrous time."—Hendersonville Times.

Indeed, it must be "interesting reading" to a republican editor, as it is disgusting to democrats who have supported Mr. Gudger for congress in the last two elections. It is not expected that he shall know the politics of any constituent in the general administration of his official duties, but when it comes to defending the political records of republicans, why, that is quite another matter. But "it is too much to expect" that Mr. Gudger "will rush to the defense of E. S. Blackburn or H. S. Anderson." He seems to be training altogether with the "organization."

PATTERSON HAS NOT FORTGOTTEN.

The Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer sent the paper the following anent the Pritchard-Gudger episode:

"Representative Patterson, of the Sixth District is one of those who will have something to say in the event that Mr. Gudger champions Judge Pritchard's cause in Congress. Speaking with reference to this subject today, Mr. Patterson said:

"In the event that a speech is made on the floor of the house in defense of Judge Pritchard, I shall have something to say with reference to a speech that he, as a senator, delivered in the senate after the Wilmington riots, in which he denounced the people of my section. I recall at that time North Carolina was represented in the senate by Senators Pritchard and Butler, and that a senator from another state felt called upon to speak in behalf of and in the defense of the people of North Carolina who were abused by one of their representatives. Appeals to congress have nothing to do with Judge Pritchard's practicing before the departments in violation of a Federal statute. If he has done so, and acknowledges the fact, as I understand he does, he should stand before the laws of the country as other citizens are required to do. The cases in which the charges are preferred against Judge Pritchard should rest on their merits, and appeals to congress one way or another should have nothing to do with their final determination, whether in a Federal court or elsewhere."

Now this sounds like the utterance of a democratic congressman. G. B. Patterson is a true democrat—"all wool and a yard wide," and is doing what he can to carry out the wishes of his constituents. He believes, and properly so, that radicals should settle their own disputes. Three cheers for Patterson.

Hon. J. F. Spainhour, our able and efficient solicitor, makes a strong prosecuting officer. During the last court, as usual, he was indefatigable in his efforts to execute the laws. He is an energetic and conscientious official and the good people of this district have every reason for congratulating themselves on having given him such a large majority at the last election, thereby retaining him in this very responsible position to which he was elevated by Governor Aycock. Solicitor Spainhour will be a candidate for re-nomination we understand, and has a tremendous following throughout the entire district.

A great revival of religion has been in progress at Raleigh the past ten days. Two of the world's greatest revivalists, Dr. Chadwick, of Leeds, England, and Dr. Len G. Broughton, of Atlanta, have been preaching to hundreds of people three times each day and a vast amount of good will be realized from the efforts of these divinely called teachers of the Holy Writ.

Cortelyou & Bliss may be indicted.

Have you procured that poll tax receipt? Do not wait until after the first of May and then declare you forgot it. It's worth the price to be able to vote the democratic ticket.

There seems to be few, if any republicans who "care a fig" for the congressional nomination in the tenth district this year. One high up in the councils of that boss-ridden, office-hunting aggregation recently remarked to the writer that any republican would be a fool to accept a nomination at this time when the party is hopelessly divided. Of course some one will have to be slaughtered.

Senator Simmons did himself proud in the preparation and delivery of his speech on the railway rate bill recently and has since been the recipient of many handsome compliments from his colleagues and the general public. Mr. Simmons never goes about anything in a half-hearted way and that is one reason favorable results are always the outcome of his efforts in whatsoever cause he enlists for the public good.

Ask your neighbors and their tenants whether they have qualified themselves for voting next fall by the payment of their poll tax. If they haven't, insist upon them doing so at once. They will thank you, when the time for voting comes, for reminding them of this important matter. It is the duty of every one who reads this notice to look out for the interests of their neighbors and friends. Let's lose no democratic votes on account of failure to pay poll tax. Do not permit our folks to overlook this.

Above and beyond all things we must avoid the demagogue like the pestilence which walketh in darkness. For the first time in our history, we see reflected upon the screen of the future the shadow of this baleful, sinister figure. Hitherto, both in our national life, and in our important states, even the suggestion of his presence has been resented. Now there are signs that the profession of attachment to one good thing may mean the practice of another wholly bad; that so-called independence may be used to cover the most selfish partisanship, and that humbug may lead up into untried and dangerous paths. During recent years there has been much discussion of the terms conservatism and radicalism, generally with the assumption that one means reaction, while the other spells progress. No classification could be more at fault. While conservatism is attached to that which has justified its existence by its usefulness, it must also be credited with a strong, unwavering enmity to old things that are dangerous. It insists upon the preservation of the honest results of human labor, whether they are moral or material, and it has some reverence for the Ten Commandments. But it condemns anarchy, socialism and communism, that trinity of evils and heresies almost as old as the world itself. It has rejected and disclaimed, in all its forms, that repudiation—which is certainly older than the oldest existing civilization. It does not look upon the demagogue with favor—for he was the rejected of Greece and Rome centuries before our era. So we come back to the wholesomeness of most things that men have found useful, to regard both for moral and for human law, which is supposed to represent it, and we can see that all changes come gradually, and not by violence or revolution.—Judge Alton B. Parker.

Gov. Eagle

A rich bay, 15½ hands high, with heavy mane and tail and finely formed, he is sired by King Dictator, his dam is a daughter of Nutwood, 2.18½. Second dam by Geo. Wilkes. Daughters of Nutwood, 2.18½ furnished a greater number of new standard performers of 1905 than those of any other sire. Ten trotters and nine pacers. Nutwood's daughters have already produced 251 in 2.30 or better, and this gives Nutwood a long lead over any stallion that has ever lived. Geo. Wilkes, the sire of his second dam, is the sire of Gambetta Wilkes, the stallion that in number of new standard performers of 1904-1905, ranks next to Nutwood. Gov. Eagle's colts have plenty of size and natural style, like their sire, and they all go high, wide and handsome, and are easily handled.

Gov. Eagle will make the season of 1906 at my stable in Hendersonville, on Baxter Avenue, at $10 the season, with return privilege. He is a very sure foal-getter.

Letter to Claude Brown.

Dear Sir: Two houses alike and in same condition, at Delhi, N. Y.; Mr. N. Avery owns them.

He didn't know which was the better paint, and didn't want to be partial between two dealers.

Painted one house with Devco, the other with—wish we might tell what paint he painted the other house with! Took six gallons Devco; and 12 of the other.

That's a good paint, that other, as paints go; it's 50 years old and has the courage to own what it's made of. It's made on a theory. Excellent paint it is; we say nothing about the theory. Go by the name.

Yours truly

The Breath of Life

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right, should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by the Justus Pharmacy. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Is Disease a Crime?

Not very long ago, a popular magazine published an editorial article in which the writer asserted, in substance, that all disease should be regarded as criminal. Certain it is, that much of the sickness and suffering of mankind is due to the violation of certain of Nature's laws. But to say that all sickness should be regarded as criminal, must appeal to every reasonable individual as radically wrong.

It would be harsh, unsympathetic, cruel, yes criminal, to condemn the poor, weak, over-worked housewife who sinks under the heavy load of household cares and burdens, and suffers from weaknesses, various displacements of pelvic organs and other derangements peculiar to her sex.

Frequent bearing of children, with its exacting demands upon the system, coupled with the care, worry and labor of rearing a large family, is often the cause of weaknesses, derangements and debility which are aggravated by the many household cares, and the hard, and never-ending work which the mother is called upon to perform. Dr. Pierce, the maker of that world-famed remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ills—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—says that one of the greatest obstacles to the cure of this class of maladies is the fact that the poor, over-worked housewife can not get the needed rest from her many household cares and labor to enable her to secure from the use of his "Prescription" its full benefits. It is a matter of frequent experience, he says, in his extensive practice in these cases, to meet with those in which his treatment fails by reason of the patient's inability to abstain from hard work long enough to be cured. With those suffering from prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion of the uterus or other displacement of the woman's organs, it is very necessary that, in addition to taking his "Favorite Prescription" they abstain from being very much, or for long periods, on their feet. All heavy lifting or straining of any kind should also be avoided. As much out-door air as possible, with moderate, light exercise is also very important. Let the patient observe these rules and the "Favorite Prescription" will do the rest.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound.
